

relating

Alison Garwood-Jones
suggests ways to add smoulder to your sex life

SEXY'S BACK

TOY STORY The We-Vibe is the latest gizmo to have the sex-toy aisle all abuzz. This Canadian invention (and you thought all we've achieved is the space arm and the BlackBerry!) is a small C-shaped vibrator designed to be used solo or with a partner during penetration. And it's the first vibrator to offer internal and external stimulation for both partners. "Less than half of all women orgasm through penetration alone," says Cory Silverberg, a Toronto-based sex educator and co-owner of Come As You Are, purveyor of fine sex accoutrements. "And with the We, the man feels the stimulation, too, because one of the small vibrating arms is inserted into the vagina for G-spot stimulation, while the other arm, also outfitted with its own motor, is nestled against the clitoris." Oh Canada.